

Coronavirus: COVID-19
Current Update – March 11, 2022

As of March 10, 2022, Canada has a total of 3,347,693 confirmed cases of COVID-19. Ontario has 1,119,564 cases and Toronto has 389,854 cases.

Please note: As of December 31, 2021, Ontario is only providing PCR tests to symptomatic, high-risk individuals. This has likely resulted in a lower number of daily cases being reported.

Ontario reports 797 people in hospital with COVID-19 and 244 patients in ICU

As of March 10, there are 1947 new cases of COVID-19 in Ontario, this is likely an underestimate as PCR testing is not widely available. The positivity rate is 11.2%

Ontario is reporting that 797 people are in hospital with COVID-19. For the 553 not in ICU, 378 of them are fully vaccinated, 154 are unvaccinated, 30 are partially vaccinated.

There are 244 COVID-19 patients in an intensive care unit. Of all patients, 71 of them are fully vaccinated, 47 are unvaccinated, 4 are partially vaccinated and 122 have unknown vaccination status.

New data from the Ontario Science Table suggests that when population size is considered, people who are fully vaccinated are 82.7% less likely to end up in hospital and 91.3% less likely to end up in ICU compared to people who are unvaccinated.

Yesterday's cases were found in: Toronto (304), Hamilton (122), York Region (104), Peel Region (119), Ottawa (170), Simcoe-Muskoka (100) and Durham Region (135). All other health units reported fewer than 100 COVID-19 cases in Ontario.

In Ontario, 86% of the eligible population is fully vaccinated, meanwhile, 4% of people in Ontario who are eligible for a vaccine have had at least one dose. 10% of the population is unvaccinated.
