There are so many upcoming COVID-19 vaccine clinics in Toronto, and many of them offer first and second doses AND first and second booster doses! I phrased it this way because, for many people, their first and second booster doses will be their third and fourth dose, but if you are moderately or severely immunocompromised, the second booster dose could be your fifth dose.* Click here to read the latest information about who is eligible for any of these doses.

Also, many of these clinics do not require an appointment or for you to bring your OHIP card (also called Ontario health card). Be sure to read until the very end for information on two accessible transportation options for people in Toronto who are going to get vaccinated!

You can always find local mobile clinic details on the Toronto Public Health online list which has a clinic calendar and map of locations.

In Toronto? Here are two transportation options to go to your vaccine appointment:

1. The Ontario Community Support Association's Accessible Drive-to-Vaccines program provides door-to-door rides to vaccination sites for people with disabilities, including seniors with mobility issues. You must have a vaccination appointment booked. You need to request a ride at least 48 hours before the appointment. To book, call 211 or click here to request an appointment online.
2. Wheel-Trans is committed to providing vaccine rides to the elderly and people with disabilities in Toronto. Wheel-Trans is offering individual rides to City-run mass vaccination sites, pharmacies, doctor's offices, and clinics that are giving out vaccines. Customers may be joined by one Support Person on their Wheel-Trans ride.

You may be eligible for Wheel-Trans service if your disability prevents you from using the TTC's conventional transit for all or part of their trip.

If you are not yet a Wheel-Trans customer, and you think you may qualify for Wheel-Trans service, you are invited to apply by calling Wheel-Trans Customer Service at 416-393-4111, Monday to Friday from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Existing Wheel-Trans customers can book their rides to and from their vaccine appointments by calling Wheel-Trans Reservations at 416-393-4222, seven days a week from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. or through the Wheel-Trans Self-Booking Website. Access the website by clicking here.
